Statement of originality:

This deliverable contains original unpublished work except where clearly indicated otherwise. Acknowledgement of previously published material and of the work of others has been made through appropriate citation, quotation or both.

This deliverable has been developed all along the life of the AFE-INNOVNET project. As part of the WP3, it was meant to provide a data base of stakeholders working in the improvement of the age-friendliness of their communities or stakeholders interested in the AFE. The aim being to facilitate the access to a list of stakeholders and thus favour the exchange of good practices and the collaboration between the stakeholders for future partnerships.

Methodology

Through the different mobilisation channels used during these two years, such as the website, newsletter, participation in events, social media, networking, stakeholders were approached and invited to join the AFE-INNOVNET thematic network.
A registration form was drafted by CEMR and approved by the Steering Group. All registrations were then pre-approved by CEMR and discussed by the Steering Group when deemed necessary.
All stakeholders willing to join the network were invited to fill in the form, which provided significant information to other members, such as: the type of organisation (LRAs, university, business, civil society); their interests, the field they are working on or wish to work on, and how they could contribute to the AFE-INNOVNET.
Good practices were open to the public; however only members of the AFE-INNOVNET were able to submit them.

The content

The deliverable 3.4 contained the following information about the members of the AFE-INNOVNET thematic network: name of the organisation; type of organisation; country; official website; and the name of the contact person. For privacy issues, contact details were removed from the document.
